

May's Fly RI Cookout at North Central State Airport (SFZ)

Here are just a few of the fine folks that attended our Fly RI Cookout at SFZ. We set out the welcome mat in my hangar because of threatening skies, but the weather gods didn't put up much of a fight. It only sprinkled for a few minutes and the day got better later that afternoon. No one flew in, but we had a great showing of members and friends just the same. Some of the food and deserts were donated by generous members for all to enjoy. Everyone had a nice time with some real hangar flying. See you all next month.

Here are some of the members sharing flying storys at Skylanes Flight School (SFZ), waiting for the fog to lift.
